

FIND YOUR LIFE PARTNER USING SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

WITH CHRISTINE PETERSON'S

7-STEP GUIDE

From: The Super Power U Team and Christine Peterson

A FASTER WAY TO FIND YOUR LIFE PARTNER

You deserve a life partner: someone to love, who will love you in return, for a long, long time. Having such a relationship is good for your health, your finances, and of course, your personal happiness.

Even though we all know this and try to find someone, many of us are still alone.

By focusing on the underlying mechanism of human pair bonding and ways to use technology efficiently to screen potential partners, Christine used these 7 principles to speed up the process of finding a mate.

You can use the acronym FINDHIM to remember them.

SEVEN PRINCIPLES FOR FINDING YOUR LIFE PARTNER

✓ Forget Early Sex

Delay Getting Physical

✓ Interact with 3+

Date in parallel to minimize risk and compare real candidates

✓ Nail Your Necessities

Focus On Real Needs, no Optional Features

✓ Date Efficiently

Screen Large Numbers of Potential Partners

✓ Help Him Be the Initiator

Enjoy Being Courted

✓ Identify Your Strengths

Stop Stressing About Your Weight, Shyness etc.

✓ Motivate Him to Act

Restart a Stuck Relationship

Even though Christine's interests are more in the areas of nanotech, longevity, and machine intelligence—but she wanted a new life partner, she made a study of how to do it, reading book and exploring dating sites. Pretty soon it became clear that today's dating practices aren't working very well. Using her science background, she designed a different plan, implemented it and within three months met her husband-to-be.

Say's Christine:

"My girlfriends agree that I 'hit the jackpot,' but there are other great single men out there. I still see my friends making the same old dating mistakes; it drives me crazy to see them unhappy. Hence this book!"
